

Kim Hittle Ohr is an alumna of Greenville High School and Thiel College, where she earned her B. A. in Psychology/Elementary Education.

Kim began her career as a third grade teacher at St. John the Baptist School in Silver Spring, MD and as a Pre-K teacher at Zion's Preschool in Greenville prior to teaching fifth grade at the former East Elementary School and later serving as K-12 Gifted/Enrichment Instructor for the Greenville Area School District.

In addition to serving on the GASD Educational Foundation Board, Kim serves as Chairperson of the Foundation's Distinguished Hall of Fame committee, is a member of the Greenville Area School District Board of School Directors, and formerly served on the Greenville Public Library Board. She also is a member of First Presbyterian Church and Zion's

Reformed Church and a past member of the Baughman Community Center Board.

Kim was recognized by the Shenango Valley Chamber of Commerce as Outstanding Educator in 2016 and also was selected by the senior class as the GHS Troian Yearbook Dedicant. In her spare time, Kim volunteers with the Christian Fitness Ministries Student Backpack Program in Greenville.

Kim resides in Greenville. She has three grown daughters who live in Erie, Pittsburgh, and Washington, D.C. and also has one granddaughter.

Related to her role with the GASD Educational Foundation, Kim shared, "It has been a pleasure to work with board members and community members to support the students and teachers of the Greenville School District. We all have gifts to give!"
